ACCESS Anesthesiology

AccessAnesthesiology® from McGraw-Hill Medical leads the way in online learning with a new generation of anesthesiology reference tools, integrating renowned medical resources with exclusive procedural videos, and powerful search ability.

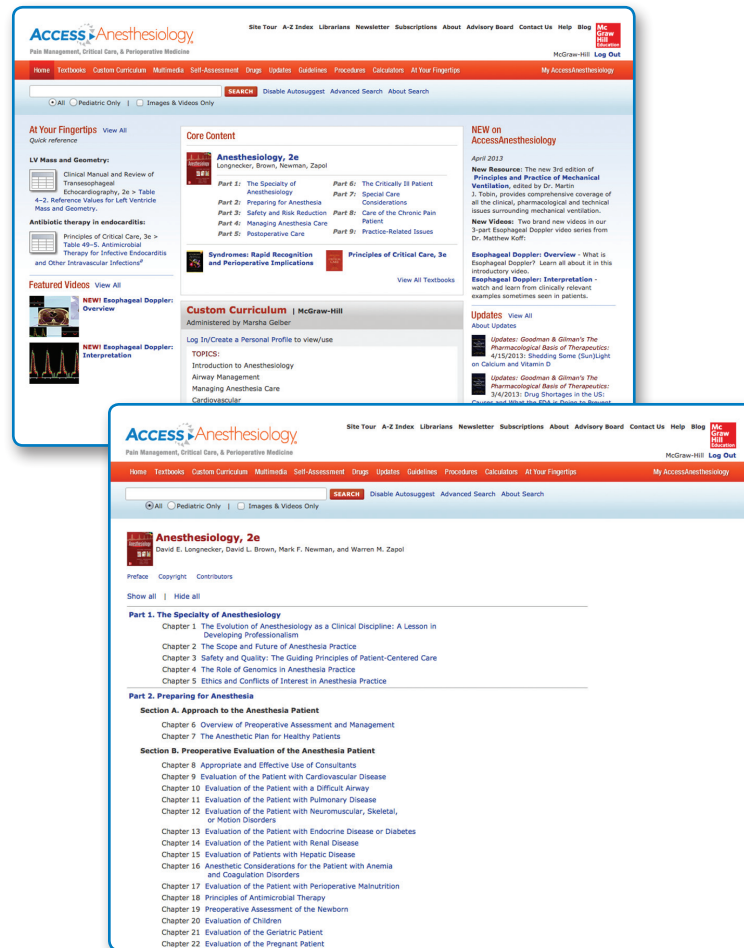

Backed by an esteemed editorial board, this online resource offers access to a collection of interactive calculators, hundreds of videos covering must-know procedures, clinical guidelines, and self-assessment, along with tables and charts designed for quick reference.

Customize your curriculum with content from our leading textbooks and clinical references, as well as cutting-edge videos and animations, to create interactive online rotations and activities that address your institution's unique educational needs. This flexible curriculum-based approach combined with unmatched resources and robust multimedia make AccessAnesthesiology an integral part of any resident education program.

An online collection of the most current clinical anesthesiology resources, such as Longnecker's Anesthesiology—which features exclusive online-only material such as regular chapter updates. Other titles include:

- Morgan & Mikhail's Clinical Anesthesiology
- Goodman & Gilman's The Pharmacological Basis of Therapeutics
- NYSORA Textbook of Regional Anesthesia and Acute Pain Management
- Clinical Manual and Review of Transesophageal Echocardiography
- Management of the Difficult and Failed Airway
